Kraków, June 15th, 2022

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

The Biological Committee of the Cracow Division of the Polish Academy of Sciences and the Institute of Zoology and Biomedical Research of the Jagiellonian University in Cracow cordially invite you to the XXIX International Symposium "Molecular and Physiological Aspects of Regulatory Processes in the Organism" taking place on October 8th-9th, 2022 which will be organized as hybrid event allowing for both in-person and on-line participation.

The XXIX International Symposium will continue the long standing tradition of scientific excellence and lively debate. The format of the conference, with Invited Speaker presentations, short oral communications and poster sessions, will create a great environment for stimulating discussions and contacts between participants at all levels.

The official language of the Symposium is English.

We hope to see you at the XXIX International Symposium!

Yours sincerely,

Prof. Elżbieta Kołaczkowska

Prof. Paweł Grzmil
